Annual Report and Report of Mass Transit activities
Fiscal Year 2003-2004 reported in CY 2005

Report subject and requirements: This report responds to the requirement from the South Carolina Department of Transportation in South Carolina Code 57-3-760 and a report on Mass Transit activities as required by South Carolina Code 57-3-40 and amended by South Carolina Code 53.10 which allows the required reports to be combined.

Section I- EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Description of the Department of Transportation

The South Carolina Department of Transportation (SCDOT) is charged with the responsibility of systematic planning, construction, maintenance, and operation of the state highway system and providing mass transit services. SCDOT is responsible for managing the fourth largest state owned highway system in the nation.

Mission and Values

The mission of SCDOT is to provide a safe and efficient transportation system for the state of South Carolina. SCDOT builds and maintains roads and bridges, and administers mass transit services.

The values subscribed to by all members are described using the acronym RIGHT Team. As a member of the team, I do things the RIGHT way!

Respectful and supportive of others
Integrity at all times
Good at what I do, because I am competent and knowledgeable
Honest and fair in all my actions
Teamwork through communication

Key Strategic Goals for Present and Future Years

SCDOT is transitioning to an updated Strategic Plan, which will allow focus on what is referred to as the "Four Rocks." Below are the key strategic goals for present and future goals.

- Increase safety on South Carolina's transportation systems and within SCDOT
- Improve the quality, efficiency and appearance of the state highway system
- Improve and expand the multi-modal transportation system in South Carolina

- Enhance and implement integrated financial and project management systems
- Improve employee skills, their work environment, and provide opportunities
- Improve management of our property, equipment and technology
- Provide the highest level of customer service

The “Four Big Rocks” are to (1) Increase safety and maintenance on South Carolina’s transportation system and within the agency; (2) Excel in customer service, internally and externally; (3) Use resources wisely and efficiently; and to (4) Improve employee development for all employees.

Safety is our top priority at SCDOT. Thanks to many state leaders, one of our greatest achievements this year was making median barrier funding a reality; it is a highly successful safety program. The South Carolina highway program was highlighted in the FHWA magazine Public Roads, an article titled, Low Cost Solutions Yield Big Savings. Among the solutions mentioned was the median barrier program. SCDOT has been recognized in an independent study as one of the top transportation departments in the nation for efficiency and productivity (Hartgen Report, UNC-Charlotte 2003). We have partnered with the private sector and local governments to build trust and improve quality of life for all citizens. SCDOT is working hard to maintain a good working relationship with the legislature to both inform and serve.

SCDOT began numerous major initiatives to improve highway safety in 2000. Vehicle miles traveled is up 7.9% from 1999, and the number of licensed drivers and registered vehicles has increased, making reductions even more significant. The number of non-fatal traffic injuries declined by 9.9% from 55,322 in 1999 to 51,267 in 2003, and the number of South Carolinians injured in a crash dropped from 1 in 69 to 1 in 78.

The state’s mileage death rate (MDR, or the number of traffic deaths per 100 million vehicle miles) dropped 16.6%, from 2.4 in 1999 to an estimated 2.0 in 2003. In 1999, the state’s MDR was 60% higher than the national average; now it is 33% higher. The 2.0 MDR is the lowest MDR ever achieved in South Carolina since records have been kept. The drop in the death rate is very significant; we will continue to monitor the data to see if this is a continuing trend.

Opportunities and Barriers

Two of the most pressing challenges facing South Carolina are the condition of our state highways and the number of fatalities attributed to highway crashes. The state highway system contains nearly 42,000 miles of roads and 8,200 bridges, which is the fourth largest state-maintained highway system in the country. SCDOT is responsible for 65% of public roads in South Carolina, compared to a national average of 20%. South Carolina does a lot more maintenance with limited funding. On a per-mile basis, SCDOT's state source funding is the lowest in the nation. The biggest obstacle to overcome maintenance and safety issues is the amount of revenue available for improvements and enhancements.

While state source highway funding is the lowest it has ever been in terms of constant dollars, SCDOT continues to identify innovative and creative means of getting the job done.

Funding

Currently, South Carolina has the lowest receipts per mile of roadway under state control in the country. Considering all state and federal sources of revenue, South Carolina receipts are $18,848 per mile of state-maintained roads. The next lowest in the country is North Carolina at $30,524; the national average is $95,492 per mile of state-maintained roads.

SCDOT receives federal-aid highway funds for improvements on the federal highway system. Typically, SCDOT can only use these funds for construction activities. Unfortunately, SCDOT cannot use federal highway funds on 24,500 miles of roads under state control (about 60% of the state system). Normal maintenance activities performed by SCDOT are not generally eligible for federal funding. Thus, SCDOT uses about three-fourths of its state revenue for maintenance of all 41,500 miles of state roads and about one-fourth of the state's highway revenues are used to match federal funds to make improvements to the 17,000 miles that are eligible for federal participation. Growth in federal funding from the Transportation Equity Act of the 21st Century increased the amount of state funds needed to match federal dollars. The match requirement has increased by nearly $60 million since 1997. State revenue has not kept pace, and SCDOT has been forced to divert funds from its maintenance budget to match all federal funds. As a result, SCDOT has no state-funded construction program and the agency has been forced to slash its secondary road-resurfacing program. Secondary roads are now on a 16 year resurfacing cycle.

Because of this crisis, SCDOT is developing a long-range strategic funding plan to take to the Governor and the Legislature, The total annual shortfall of funds now exceeds $2.6 billion per year. To meet this need, the funding proposal will be phased over a ten to fifteen year period. The very first phase will focus on the state's two top priorities of system preservation and safety; i.e., resurfacing, safety projects and highway maintenance. Good transportation policy requires we take care of the roads we already have in our system before building more roads.

Major Achievements From the Past Year

Major achievements will be described in length in the "Business Results Section" of this report. The highlight of some of the major achievements of SCDOT during FY 2003-2004 include the following:

Awards

- SCDOT received the National Roadway Safety Award from FHWA Operational Improvements to include installing cable barriers, truck lane restrictions, and using other practices to reduce interstate highway fatalities by nearly 1/3.

MASS TRANSIT ANNUAL REPORT

Introduction

In its role to support and improve access to transportation services throughout South Carolina, the South Carolina Department of Transportation (SCDOT) has produced this Report to provide financial, technical, and planning information on the State's public and human service transit systems.

The information contained within this report provides comprehensive transit funding data to system operators, public policymakers, legislators, local governments, human services agencies, and others on which to base decision-making for planning, establishment and operation of transit services. South Carolina has three large urban transit systems located in Charleston, Columbia and Greenville as well as 16 Local Transit Providers. South Carolina also has over 125 Human Services Agencies that provide transit services to local elderly and disabled persons.

The mission of the South Carolina Department of Transportation is to provide a safe and efficient transportation system for the state of South Carolina. SCDOT builds and maintains roads and bridges as well as provides mass transit services to the citizens of the state. SCDOT is responsible for planning, budgeting, financing, and coordinating various modes of transportation.

Transit Service Providers

The Mass Transit Office is the public transportation arm of SCDOT. It administers and manages several programs that distribute federal and state money to local transit providers for administration, operations, and capital acquisitions. The Mass Transit Office also provides funding for coordination of transit services and technical assistance to local transportation providers. In this role, Mass Transit works with these local transit agencies to develop and fund annual projects and services.

Local Transit Providers

Local Transit Agencies include locally operated transit systems, regional transportation authorities, and regional transportation management associations. The type of services offered by Local Transit Providers depends on the size and population density. Some agencies provide fixed-route service that operates on a regular route, while others offer demand-response service that provides door-to-door transportation.

The Regional Transportation Management Associations (RTMA) frequently provide transportation within their respective regions. They coordinate transportation among other agencies in their region to provide low cost transportation services through purchase of service contracts.

Overview of SCDOT Mass Transit Services

Federal and State Funding Programs

SCDOT manages a number of funding programs available to transportation providers throughout the State. These programs support both public transportation and specialized transportation services:

- ▶ FTA Section 3037 – Job Access and Reverse Commute – This grant is used to provide new transit service to assist welfare recipients in getting to and from jobs and training.
- ▶ FTA Section 5303 – Metropolitan Planning – This program establishes a cooperative, continuous, and comprehensive framework for making transportation investment decisions in metropolitan areas.
- ▶ FTA Section 5309 – Capital Assistance Grant – Funds to be used for mass transit capital projects only, such as bus purchases, computers, facilities upgrades and rail projects.
- ▶ FTA Section 5310 – These funds are used to assist private non-profit organizations in meeting the transit needs of the elderly and disabled population through vehicles purchases or purchase of service contracts with other transit providers.
- ▶ FTA Section 5311 – Rural Non-Urbanized Grant – These funds are used by transit agencies for administration, operations and capital in conjunction with providing rural transportation services.
- ▶ FTA Section 5313 – Statewide Planning and Research – This program provides support for national and statewide public transit studies and planning.
- ▶ FTA Section 5311b - Rural Transportation Assistance Program – Provides a source of funding to assist in implementing a training program and technical assistance tailored to meet the needs of transit agencies in non-urbanized areas.
- ▶ State Mass Transit Funds (SMTF) – SCDOT receives $\frac{1}{4}$ of one cent of the State gasoline tax (approximately \$6.0 million) and from the State General Fund (approximately \$0.1 million) annually. The total funding received allows the State to match federal dollars and provide transportation assistance.

Each large and small urban transit provider receives grant funding directly from the Federal Transit Agency annually.

- ▶ FTA Section 5307 – Urbanized Area Grant – Funding is made available to designated recipients that must be public bodies with the legal authority to receive and dispense Federal funds. Generally, a transportation management area is an urbanized area with a population of 200,000 or over. The Governor or Governor’s designee is the designated recipient for urbanized areas between 50,000 and 200,000. SCDOT is the designate for South Carolina.

SCDOT Plans to Expand SMARTRIDE Commuter Bus Concept

Following a very successful debut in the fall of 2003, the SmartRide commuter-focused bus service kicked off again in June, 2004. SmartRide bus service was initially provided free of charge to riders in the greater Columbia metropolitan area in October, 2003. This “demonstration period” gave SCDOT and Central Midlands Regional Transit Authority (CMRTA) staff valuable information to analyze the potential demand for a commuter-focused express-type bus service in this area. The results of that “trial period” were very favorable. A report for policy and decision-makers, as well as other interested parties, was produced by the SCDOT’s Mass Transit Office and released in December, 2003.

A decision was made to make SmartRide available in the Midlands again. One route begins in the Camden area and is operated by the Santee-Wateree Regional Transportation Authority (SWRTA). The other route originates in Newberry and is operated by Central Midlands Regional Transit Authority (CMRTA). Both routes bring commuters into downtown Columbia.

The SCDOT Mass Transit Office plans to expand the SmartRide concept to other parts of the state in the coming years. The primary candidates for SmartRide will be the larger, urbanized areas where substantial numbers of commuters travel from outlying locations to central cities to work. SCDOT would like to see SmartRide become a recognized “brand name” for commuter-focused express bus service in South Carolina. Due to ever-increasing congestion in large urban areas and the possibility of some parts of the state becoming a non-attainment area for air quality, SCDOT believes the time is right to work with its transit partners to further the cause of commuter-based transit around the state.

United We Ride Initiative

On February 24, 2004, President Bush signed the Executive Order on Human Service Transportation Coordination. The guiding principle behind the executive order is the fact that there are too many federally funded transportation services with too many complex restrictions and regulations. Over 62 different federal programs fund transportation services. The sheer number of options, not to mention the variety of requirements and access points, can make getting from “point A” to “point B” confusing, to say the least. It was recognized that multiple federal agencies need to work together to ensure that transportation services are seamless, comprehensive and accessible to all.

In February, 2004, a National Leadership Forum was held in the nation's capital for state-appointed senior leadership teams to discuss what their respective states are doing or have done to address coordination. The South Carolina Department of Transportation's Deputy Director of Mass Transit, Glennith Johnson, was among the senior leadership present from our state.

The Federal Transit Administration is providing State Coordination Grants to help states address the gaps and needs related to human service transportation. South Carolina, through the SCDOT Mass Transit Office, applied and received a $35,000 grant which is 100% federally funded and may be used by states to develop a statewide action plan or a series of local action plans. An interagency work group will begin meetings in 2005 to discuss coordination opportunities.

New Transit Service Begins in Allendale County

A first of its kind public transportation service began in late July in Allendale County, South Carolina. Named the Allendale County Scooter, the new service is the result of the collaborative efforts of a number of agencies, volunteers and officials in this part of the state.

Current and former members of S. C. House of Representatives, Allendale City and County Government representatives, Lowcountry Regional Transportation Authority Transportation Board Chairman, Community Transportation Assoc. of America Representative and a representative of the SCDOT were on hand to unveil the new Allendale County “SCOOTER” Transportation Service on July 28, 2004.

The service is innovative because it utilizes existing seats on vehicles operated by the Lowcountry Regional Transportation Authority (LRTA) under contract to Allendale County agencies. Seats that would normally be empty during human service agency transportation usage are now made available to the general public. Tickets are sold in the county at a reasonable price that makes the service affordable to area residents.

Addressing an already established demand (the Allendale County Scooter was “tested” during a two-month trial period in May and June, 2004) this unique service fills a very definite void in a county that has one of the state’s highest unemployment rates and one of the most severe health care access problems in South Carolina.

Funding for the project was made possible by a number of agencies as well. These included the SCDOT Mass Transit Office, the Federal Transit Administration, Allendale County Government, the Sisters of Charity, Allendale County Alive, and the James E. Clyburn Transportation Center at South Carolina State University. Many other organizations, businesses and individuals provided support.

Lower Savannah Council of Governments, SCDOT, SWRTA, Aiken County Transit; all joint recipients of National Association of Development Organizations (NADO) Innovation Award

The NADO Innovation Awards Program recognizes organizations that have demonstrated innovative approaches to economic and community development. The Lower Savannah Council of Governments (LSCOG) was recognized by the National Association of Development Organizations (NADO) for its ground breaking efforts that brought improved public transportation services to an underserved rural part of South Carolina. The recognition came after the COG partnered with the SCDOT to create a regional transportation management association (RTMA) to better coordinate the scattered public transportation services in the region. Last year SCDOT also designated this RTMA as a virtual transit enterprise (VTE) pilot project to further develop and deploy a variety of information technology (or IT) and data sharing initiatives.

The Santee-Wateree Regional Transportation Authority (SWRTA) and the Aiken County Transit System, were also honored for their coordination efforts with the Lower Savannah RTMA. In addition, SWRTA was honored for its role as the lead agency for a drug and alcohol testing consortium. Through the consortium, screening and testing for all safety sensitive employees in the region is conducted as though they were one group by one drug testing laboratory. This not only results in a cost savings for all concerned but in a less burdensome selection process of employees with very small agencies that may only have a few safety sensitive employees.

Another of the innovations that helped garner this award was the authorization for the Lower Savannah COG to be the first regional entity in the state to receive FTA Section 5310 (elderly and persons with disabilities program) funding. The COG then subcontracted with transportation entities at the local level to assist in achieving efficient transportation coordination in the Lower Savannah region of the state. The COG acts as a broker, through the RTMA, for public transportation in the region.

Most award winners partner with local businesses, educational institutions and/or non-profit groups, allowing them to simultaneously address human and economic development needs, leverage funds and eliminate duplication.

Maintenance Management Program Software

The Santee-Wateree Regional Transportation Authority (SWRTA) began using a new maintenance management program that was provided by the State Fleet Management Association (SFMA).

After SWRTA installed and tested the program, the authority quickly realized that the program could help provide much needed information. This included fleet maintenance status and many more things related to inventory as well as overall maintenance management. Because the program is free of charge to those in the industry, the SCDOT Mass Transit Office is encouraging all transit agencies to get on board so that each agency can take advantage of the maintenance management program.

Generations Unlimited Wins a Best Practice Award

Generations Unlimited transportation program, Local Motion, has been selected as one of 16 best geriatric practices in the region. The Geriatric Best Practices Advisory Board made the selection based on information collected by the Sage Institute. The board also presented Generations Unlimited with the “Leader in Geriatric Innovation” Award. The Geriatric Best Practices Initiative funded by the Duke Endowment in collaboration with the South Carolina Hospital Association, the Sage Institute has explored, evaluated and catalogued senior healthcare and non-healthcare practices across South Carolina and its bordering regions. Sage researchers have visited more than 200 different sites and explored more than 100 senior service agencies.

To be chosen as a best practice, a senior service agency must improve the quality of life for seniors; have sustainable qualities and benefits; have future benefits; be integrated with healthcare and the community; have proven measurable outcomes; and be financially self-sustaining or provide a cost-loss reduction. Local Motion is operated by Generations Unlimited to serve citizens primarily in Barnwell County, South Carolina.

INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY FOR TRANSIT

In August 2004, 16 out of 19 general public transit providers are utilizing RouteMatch software for scheduling and dispatching. Staff persons have now been trained at each of the 19 public transit agencies as of August 2004. Entry-level training for transit personnel was held statewide in early June 2004 on the software.

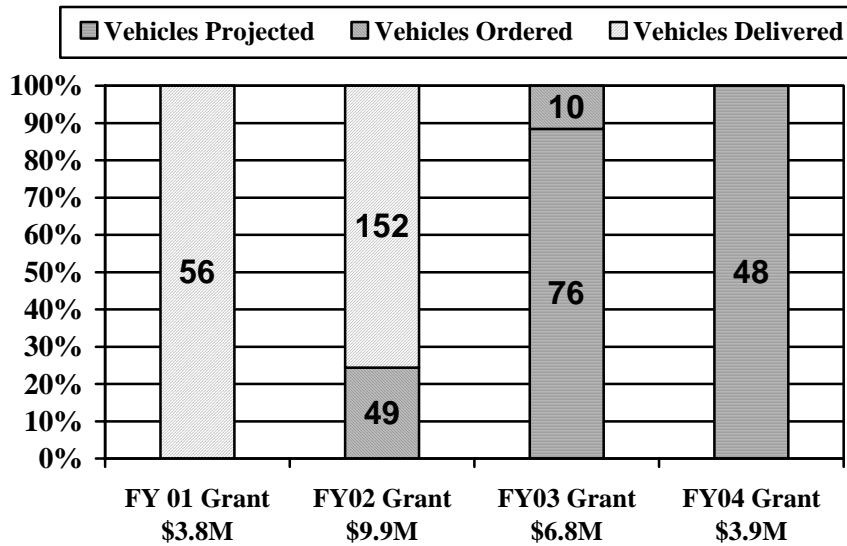

The third and final phase of the SCDOT Information Technology Project will be an electronic grants management system modeled after the federal system. This will enable transit providers to submit applications/proposals, invoices, requests for contract revisions, etc. to SCDOT electronically and receive grant documents electronically.

STATEWIDE TRANSIT VEHICLE ACQUISITION PROGRAM

For the past four years the SCDOT has acquired over 200 transit vehicles with the assistance of four congressional earmarks totaling $23.7 million to replace aging transit vehicles statewide. In September 2002, SCDOT began furnishing newly acquired transit vehicles to South Carolina public transportation providers. Vehicle inventories of each public transit agency are reviewed annually and the needs are calculated through year 2013.

Fifty-five (55) medium duty, 17 passenger, wheelchair lift equipped vehicles were delivered at a cost of $2,761,189.00 dollars. Orders have been placed for the remaining vehicles with delivery dates stretching over the next two years. In January 2004, SCDOT also placed orders for at least 30 large transit buses to begin drawing down the FY 02/03 Congressional earmarks. By State FY 2006 SCDOT is projected to spend over $23 million on new vehicles bringing the total of replacements purchased to over 390 vehicles.

SCDOT contracted with an on-site vehicle inspector to provide inspections at the manufacturer’s facility to ensure that vehicles purchased under this program meet the end-user specifications. The inspectors identified over 1000 defects and required the manufacturer to correct the defects before the vehicles were shipped which ensured the vehicles were ready for revenue service once they were delivered to transit providers.

The goal of the Transit Vehicle Acquisition Program is to purchase new vehicles for each transit agency, which will cast a positive image of transit, ensure reliability and reduce maintenance costs. However, obtaining State and local match has been a challenge for this program. The lack of a dedicated State match for the current FY 2004 federal grant and any future capital grants the state may receive severely limits our ability to replace additional transit vehicles and places a huge burden on our existing transit systems to be able to provide safe and reliable vehicles for the commuting public.

Transit Facilities

As of July 30, 2004, the assessment has identified approximately $20 million in facility needs. SCDOT received a Congressional Earmark for facilities upgrade in the amount of $982,260. This earmark will be apportioned to the transit agency that has the greatest need based on the assessment. The goal of the facilities improvement program is to renovate, refurbish, and replace transit facilities.

PASSENGER RAIL PROGRAM

A memorandum of understanding (MOU) has been developed between North Carolina, South Carolina and Georgia for an operational capacity study of the Norfolk Southern/Amtrak corridor that extends through the upstate cities of Spartanburg, Greenville and Clemson. The study is the second phase looking at the feasibility of a Charlotte to Atlanta high-speed rail corridor that will be part of the designated Southeastern High-Speed Rail Corridor that will eventually extend from Washington, DC to Jacksonville, Florida.

The results of phase I known as the Macon to Charlotte Southeast High-Speed Rail Corridor Study, was presented to the SCDOT Commission's Mass Transit Sub-Committee on June 15, 2004. This study was completed largely with Federal Railroad Administration funding with North Carolina, South Carolina and Georgia contributing matching funds.

SCDOT established an Upstate High-Speed Rail (UHSR) Task Force. The purpose of the task force is to help accomplish several important goals. Among these are to determine the level of support for implementation of the UHSR Corridor; identify potential sources of funding for implementation of the UHSR Corridor (including funding for studies associated with the corridor as well as construction funds); and providing input to the SCDOT and to the consultants performing the studies related to the UHSR.

A major investment study (MIS) has been launched to study the feasibility of commuter rail service and express bus service between the Charlotte metropolitan region and the Rock Hill urbanized area. Twenty-eight thousand commuters move daily between Rock Hill, SC and Charlotte, NC. This number is projected to increase to between 45,000 and 50,000 by the study forecast year of 2020.

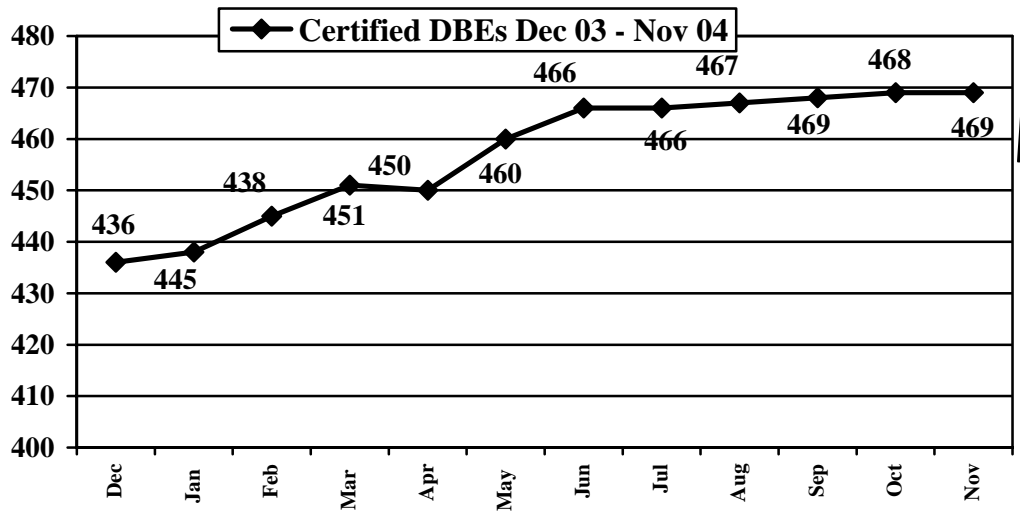

SPARTA Gets New Buses and Downtown Transfer Center

The City of Spartanburg and its transit system have new buses and a new passenger transfer center. Known as SPARTA, the Spartanburg Area Regional Transit Agency held a grand opening and dedication on July 23, 2004. Local dignitaries, state and federal officials and the general public were invited to take part. The Federal Transit Administration's Region IV office in Atlanta, was on hand as were Spartanburg Assistant City Manager and SPARTA General Manager.

The new SPARTA Passenger Center, along with their fairly recently completed administrative and maintenance facility, make SPARTA one of only a couple of transit agencies in the state to have this much new modern, state-of-the-art construction.

Disadvantaged Business Enterprise (DBE) Recruitment & Participation

Out of a total of $281,060 expended on mass transit technical assistance projects last fiscal year, approximately $63,008 was spent with DBE firms for a participation rate of 22%.

For the second year in a row, SCDOT exceeded its strategic goal of increasing the number of certified DBEs in highways and mass transit by 9.3% in twelve months (ending Nov 2004).

SCDOT’s updated (FY 2005-2006) goal and methodology for its DBE mass transit program, set its participation goal at 3%, and was submitted to the FTA on July 26, 2004.
